Sinister Note Is Lent to Fatalities in House by Disclosure Policies Were in Landlady's Name.

DETROIT, Aug. 26.—(AP)—A mother and her son were held by police today following the death by a fall from a window of a roomer in their home, and the subsequent discovery by police that ten men, most of whom the woman held insurance policies, had died in her rooming house during the past eight years.

The woman, Mrs. Rose Veras, 48, whose rooming house is in this city's Hungarian colony, is held on a technical charge of homicide. Her son, William, 18, was arrested for investigation.

The death of Steve Mak, 68, a roomer at Mrs. Veras' home opened the police investigation. Mrs. Veras told police Mak fell from a ladder while repairing an attic window. Other witnesses said Mak was not at work on a ladder, and that it appeared he had been pushed from the window.

One police.

George M. Stutz, assistant prosecuting attorney, said he had learned there was one valid insurance policy on Mak's life, for $4,000, of which Mrs. Veras was the beneficiary. He said he had learned Mrs. Veras recently borrowed money to make a payment on the policy.

The official welcome of Japan was given by Premier Reijo Wakatsuki. He congratulated the Lindberghs upon "completing a perilous and adventurous flight over a maiden air route from the United States to Japan via the north Pacific."

Saying the flight began in New York July 29 was "one of the most worthy and epoch-making events in the history of aviation," the premier complimented the various achievements of Lindbergh and continued:

"We all admire his superhuman ability, skill and insight in the science of aviation and his indefatigable spirit. I am happy to welcome Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh not only as heroes, but also as bearers of goodwill and friendship from our friends across the Pacific."

In an interview, Lindbergh said he will continue in their cabinet posts.

The line-up of the labor battalions to smite their so-called "traitorous" leaders is continuing at a rapid pace.

Frank M. Kenney, Mrs. Veras' attorney, presented a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Mrs. Veras and her son, returnable today. Instead of dismissing the writ, as he first announced, Judge Henry S. Noyes extended the time to Thursday, saying he desired to give the police "all the time they want in investigating the case."

Kenney declared the action against Mrs. Veras was the result of neighborhood gossip. He said the previous deaths in her home had been investigated and solved.

Detectives investigating Mrs. Veras' activities said she had a record of six previous arrests, but no convictions. One of the arrests, they said, was for embezzlement.

M'DONALD MEETS FRESH OPPOSITION IN RANKS OF LABOR

New British Government, However, Reaches Accord on Procedure in Meeting Budget Crisis.

BY VICTOR EUBANK.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Ramsay MacDonald's new national government reached full accord today on the procedure necessary to meet the budget crisis, but encountered increasing opposition from the ranks of labor.

The first meeting of the cabinet, held after the new ministers had been vested with the seals of office by King George at Buckingham palace, broke up with the announcement that complete agreement had been reached on the measures to deal with the unprecedented floods.

At the same time organized labor—the Trades Union Congress general council, the national executive committee of the labor party, and the consultative committee of the parliamentary labor party—formally declared their opposition to the three-party cabinet.

The labor organizations, at a joint meeting, passed a resolution withdrawing their support from the laborite leaders participating in the national cabinet, chief of whom is the prime minister.

The resolution declared the labor groups were unanimous of the opinion the new government "should be vigorously opposed in parliament and by a movement throughout the country."

It expressed "approval of the ministers of the late government in declining to render support to the new administration and recommended that the parliamentary labor party constitute itself the official parliamentary opposition."

Seals Transferred.

Mr. MacDonald and his new associates all appeared at Buckingham palace in top hats and frocks or morning coats for the ceremony of transferring the seals of office.

The ceremony last about an hour and then the officially invested ministers hurried back to the prime minister's residence, 10 Downing street, and held their first formal session.

One of the first acts of the prime minister was to name a small committee to deal with the necessary legislation which will be rushed through a special parliament session convening Sept. 8.

The government plans to allow all opposition in the house of commons, even by dictatorial methods if necessary. Gloves will be discarded, it is said, in pushing through laws required to meet the emergency.

Labor's bludgeons are expected to be used most on Mr. MacDonald and Dominions Secretary J. H. Thomas, although Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden, who also followed the prime minister into the national cabinet, may be included in the blacklist.

Both the prime minister and Mr. Thomas may be read out of the party, but nevertheless it is expected they will continue in their cabinet posts.

Greatest Welcome in Oriental History Accorded U. S. Fliers.

TOKYO, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Japanese people welcomed Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh today with one of the greatest demonstrations ever seen in the ancient capital.

Police struggled to hold enthusiastic crowds in check as the Lindberghs rode in an open automobile through two and one-half miles of streets decorated in their honor. After the parade they went to the home they will occupy during a brief stay before extending their flight to some city of China.

Five Persons Perish In Wisconsin Blaze

BLUE RIVER, Wis., Aug. 26.—Although five persons, two of them children, died yesterday as a result of the fire that destroyed the Falke home near Port Andrew.

The children lost their lives in the fire, and their mother and father and a laborer living with them died severely hours later in a Richland Center hospital.

The machine which had carried the passenger aviators 7,132 miles from New York and from wastes of Canada and Alaska and then had stopped for the Bering sea and north Pacific was for a time endangered by the crowd's enthusiasm.

But Japanese sailors formed a corral around the plane. The first formal expression of Japanese admiration was by Admiral Baron Kurokau Abo, minister of the navy.

NICE, France, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Frank Harris, self-exiled from his adopted America because of official objections to some of his writings, died in his sleep early today at age 68.

Until his death he had been writing and publishing his "bad boy" literary works, including "Oscar Wilde and His Own Confessions" and "Life and Love."

His "Life and Confessions of Oscar Wilde" brought him renown. His autobiography brought him notoriety. For it was suppressed in various countries, including the United States, on charges that it was obscene.

He died while staying at a villa in Nice, where he had been living for 20 years ago.

His funeral will be held Friday morning at the Episcopal church in Nice, with burial in a nearby Protestant cemetery.

The iconoclast of Anglo-American society suffered a long attack of bronchitis, an ailment that had made his health poor, and his condition became alarming over the weekend.

He had completed the proofreading of his life of George Bernard Shaw, the Irish dramatist and long his friend, last week. The Shaw biography is to be published simultaneously in England and America in the autumn.

HARVEY IS NAMED THIRD PARTY HEAD

Veteran of Bryan's Campaign Accepts Presidential Nomination.

MONTE NE, Ark., Aug. 26.—(AP)—After declining when his name first was placed in nomination, William H. (Coin) Harvey today became the new "liberty party" candidate for president at the convention which he called here.

The 80-year-old veteran of Bryan's free silver campaigns was nominated by Arthur M. White, of New Orleans. He announced he could not accept.

There followed a motion that a later convention be held to select candidates which met with considerable opposition. White again mounted the platform and declared the party needed a "cool and tried" leader such as Mr. Harvey.

Harvey then announced that "rather than see the party disrupted" over failure to agree upon a candidate, he would accept Andrew Natskog, 45, of Los Angeles, Calif., who was nominated as vice presidential candidate.

Amid scenes of wild confusion the new party adopted a platform calling for revision of the monetary system, government ownership of all public utilities, and a five-year moratorium on all debts.

A militant minority among the 200 odd delegates sought to write into the platform their own views, but failed not only in this but also in their efforts to express them on the floor.

Finally Mr. Harvey, the dominating figure in the convention, though feeble from his 80 years, moved the previous question that the platform be reconsidered, and a chorus of "noes" voted down the motion, thus leaving the platform adopted.

Later, however, he admitted he was the "Tough Willie" who was hunted for weeks in the Rothstein case, and finally appeared to day after it had taken part in the high stakes gambling that preceded the slaying of his employer.

But as far as what happened during the early hours of the morning, the wounded man maintained silence. When few details he spoke were about his desire that his wife, vacationing in Milford, Pa., be kept ignorant of what had happened.

The stabbing was preceded by an attack of three gunmen on a card game in the rear of an east side dry goods store. The owner of the place, Theodore Naddi, was killed by the gangsters' fusillade of lead. The slayers escaped.

ROTHSTEIN BODYGUARD LUKE LEA AND SON POST KNIFE ATTACK VICTIM $40,000 FOR APPEALS

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Figures in two of New York's most spectacular murder mysteries were involved today in a stabbing that came after nearly 48 hours without sensational crime in the city.

The victim of the knife attack was Tommie White, 21, who was stabbed to death at Arnold Rothstein, whose murderer after a $300,000 card game never has been solved.

CONNER IS ELECTED MISSISSIPPI CHIEF

BY KENNETH TOLER JR.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Martin Bennett (Mike) Conner, lawyer, and practical politician, will move his domicile in January from Seminary to the governor's mansion, Jackson.

Conner had planned on two previous occasions to make this move, but the democratic voters of the state chose for him the quietude of the little Covington county town.

Assistant U. S. Senator Conner came back to town in the third go-round—which he said would be his last regardless—and he landed.

Conner, son of a sawmill owner, was winner in Tuesday's democratic election for governor over Hugh L. White, millionaire south Mississippi lumberman, who sought to crash from mayoralty to town of Columbia into the governorship. He fell short about 25,000 votes.

With almost complete returns from the state's 1,590 precincts scattered throughout 82 counties, the vote in yesterday's governor's race stood tonight:

Conner 160,850; White 143,452.

A total vote cast of 310,302 out of a probable 315,000.

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Akron, queen of the air, poked her nose out of her giant dock early today for her first visit into the open air.

A ground crew of 250 men "walked" the ship, the largest dirigible in the world, outside of the hangar in the dress rehearsal to prepare for the first flight some time in the near future.

With the first launching rehearsal completed, the program of construction tests inside the dock was ready to resume.

Over tests several days ago strung one portion of the ship and as a result greater localized strength will be built into several sections.

The maiden flight will not be staged before September 5, Goodyear-Zeppelein Corporation and navy officials said.

DO-X To Complete 4-Continent Hop In New York Today

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The DO-X, largest heavier-than-air liner in the world, made a stopover in Hampton Roads tonight a short distance from the naval air station, her tanks filled with fuel for the hop to New York tomorrow in completion of four-continent flight begun more than a year ago.

The flight to New York will start at 7 o'clock eastern standard time, and Captain Hanmer expects to be over the metropolis by 11:30. The DO-X will fly over the city, circle the Statue of Liberty and land in the harbor.

The great flying ship came up the coast from Chicago yesterday morning at a speed of approximately 100 miles an hour, most of the time at little more than 50 feet from the sea. Passengers described the trip as delightful.

CHARLES H. DUKE DIES SUDDENLY

Charles H. Duke Sr., 52, of Hills Marietta road, Inman Yards, died Wednesday night of heart failure at Grady hospital. He was a foreman in the Southern railway shops.

Coming into town to attend a lodge meeting with H. E. Ivy, of Hills Duke fell ill upon returning to the meeting place that he was ill and desired to return home. Ivy complied, and at the intersection of Howell Mill road and Marietta street, on the return trip, Duke got out of the car, evidently suffering great pain. Besides his wife Duke is survived by two sons, Charles H. Jr. and William Duke, of Atlanta, and two daughters, Mrs. Flora Skelly, of Kentucky, and Mrs. Pauline Deal, of Atlanta.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Blanchard Brothers.

BOARDMAN, POLAND GIVEN 4TH RECEPTION

HYANNIS, Mass., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Captain Russell Boardman and Lieutenant John Poland, long distance air travelers, today piloted their plane, Cape Cod down to the peninsula for which it was named and accepted their fourth reception in three days.

A squadron of seven planes escorted them to the airport. They had flown earlier in the day from Boston to New Bedford, where they landed shortly before noon. They were presented gold medallions during a brief stay at Round Hill, South Dartmouth, by Colonel Edward H. R. Green, son of the late Hettie Green.

Mrs. Phoebe Omile, of Memphis, was second to reach Amarillo, bringing her plane down at 4:27:40, 15 minutes after Mrs. O'Donnell had landed. Mrs. Omile was second in score points in the general handicap when the fliers left El Paso this morning.

SHERIFF IS ACQUITTED BY JURY IN TWIGGS

Sealed Verdict Clears Official of Five Charges of Malfeasance.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ga., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Sheriff Samuel G. Kitchens, two county official, was cleared in after hearing day, after a jury acquitted him of five charges of malfeasance in office in a sealed verdict delivered in the superior court.

The verdict came at the end of a two-day trial in which G. Frank Cannon, Twiggs county land owner, sought the sheriff's removal.

The prosecution in the case sought to show Sheriff Kitchens had misappropriated county funds and was incompetent to hold the office to which he was elected.

The jury was asked to rule on the guilt or innocence of the sheriff on any one of all of the counts. It decided it was within the power of the judge to order his removal from office.

Before and during the trial Sheriff Kitchens denied the charges as "political."

After being acquitted, Kitchens received a letter from the Twiggs county grand jury, now in session, congratulating him upon his victory.

CALLAWAY RESIDENCE AT LAGRANGE ROBBED

LAGRANGE, Ga., Aug. 26.—Burglars entered the home of Cason J. Callaway, local capitalist, and escaped with an undetermined amount of jewelry and personal effects.

The body was found by two young men who came home after a night's work in the local knitting mill. Identification was difficult because the body had been cut into so many pieces and strewn along the railroad tracks, but the finding of Lee's hat with his name written in it helped to prove the identity of the dead man.

ATLANTA, GA., AUGUST 27, 1931.

TEXAS—FLY IN THE OINTMENT.

Plans for salvaging the cotton situation are almost as many as blackberries in July, but the one seriously proposed by Governor Huey Long, of Louisiana, has attracted the most general attention.

His plan is for special sessions of the legislatures of the cotton belt states to enact similar laws prohibiting the planting of any cotton in those states in the season of 1932. It is a drastic plan and would go far to insure better prices for existing cotton and reduce production closer to, if not below, the world's cotton demands for the next two years.

Excellent as are many arguments in support of the plan, it fails at once when it does not get the concerted action of all the cotton states. In fact, the refusal of Texas alone to co-operate with the plan dooms it to rejection all down the line. Texas is the first cotton state, producing in normal years nearly one-third of the total southern crop. And now Governor Sterling, of Texas, announces that it is improbable that the Texas legislature will co-operate with the Long plan.

So Texas seems to be the fly in this ointment.

The vital question of how the cotton growers of the south are to co-operate to reduce the future crop so as to balance their produce with the world demand, remains open. No one can answer it by doctrinaire advice and legislative palliatives applied here and there. The plan that will work and solve the aggravated problem is that one which appeals to the common sense of every cotton farmer and draws him into a mutual agreement with all his fellows in the same field.

THE CONGRESS PUZZLE.

Whether the republicans or the democrats will organize the house of the 72nd congress in December is still a question in the political clouds.

In the regular elections last year the republicans elected 118 members, the democrats 116 and the farmer-labor party in Minnesota elected 1; but since then 11 of the members-elect have died. Three of the vacancies have been filled without changing the party ratios; eight more are to be filled, four to replace deceased republicans and four to replace deceased democrats. In those elections yet to be held it is more than likely the democrats will gain a member, thereby evening the parties and giving the deciding power to the lone farmer-laborite from Minnesota.

There are yet more than three months before the assembling of the congress and in that time other members may die. The mortality tables argue that they will; hence, the status of the parties on December 7 will remain doubtful until that very day.

Meanwhile peculiar things are worrying the political leaders of both parties. It is conceded that should the democrats organize the house Congressman Garner, of Texas, will be chosen as its speaker. In the republican caucus there is a sharp fight between the partisans of Congressman Snell, of New York, and John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, with the present prospect that Snell will get the party nomination.

All that would seem to plainly indicate what should normally happen, but there are two big flies in the republican pintinent. While he has not said that he will not vote for Snell, it is strongly felt that Kvale, the farmer-favorite, is more likely to vote for Garner than for Snell, whose eastern policy principles and whose conduct as chairman of the powerful rules committee, have been intensely foreign to the feelings of the free-footed Minnesotan.

If, on December 7, the republicans still have 118 against 116 democrats, the accession of the Minnesotan's vote would not enable the democrats to prevail, but right there, buzzes in the other fly.

Last year, in the first Tennessee district, O. B. Lovette, an independent republican, defeated Carroll Reese, the regular nominee. Lovette represents the district in which John Tilson was born and trained before he went to Yale and located in Connecticut. He is extremely partial to Tilson and it is believed that if he finds that Snell is sure of the caucus preference, Lovette will stay out of the caucus and vote for Garner.

All of which sets up a situation peculiarly interesting to the political managers of both parties and calculated to cause some worry to the man in the White House.

FATE OF THE FARM BOARD.

A great current of demands for the abolition of the federal farm board is running over the country. The chorus sounds strongest in the republican newspapers all the way from Boston to Seattle. In many of them President Hoover is openly criticized for devising the board and supporting its harlequin operations.

The main charge against the farm board is that it entered the open markets of the country, and by purchasing wheat and cotton on an inevitably falling market, not only failed to stabilize prices but contributed to a market confusion not yet ended and that spelled enormous losses to the farmers of the nation.

The board has opened no new markets for our surplus commodities. On the contrary, it has accumulated in its own hands cotton and wheat at a net loss to the funds committed to it of $198,450,000. The losses to the farmers of the nation in the meantime have gone into billions and are almost certain to increase in face of the large crops of the current year.

Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, a stalwart republican and Hooverite, has announced that he will offer the abolition of the farm board when the congress meets in December. Most of the foremost republican newspapers are also cheering him on and predicting that the board will not last out the winter. Its career is but another spectacular demonstration that natural economic laws cannot be controlled by legislative artifices, and especially that when government enters the business arena it disrupts the orderly schemes of finance and trade.

WORKING TO BE WORTHY.

Very soon now hundreds of thousands of young men and women will be again in their colleges, universities and special schools. They will, in a large percentage, be vacating jobs given them during their summer vacations. That will open those occupations to as many who have been unemployed in the meantime and tend to relieve somewhat the pressure upon public and private relief agencies.

Those young people are not subjects of criticism for seeking summer jobs. They needed employment both for maintenance and to acquire funds to keep themselves in schools for another term. The statistics showing how many students in high schools, technical schools, colleges and universities are paying their ways through by vacation and odd-hours work are truly amazing. But for those ancillary jobs scores and scores of thousands of them would be in the ranks of the workers permanently, rather than as summer and odd-hours helpers.

It is a tribute to the ambition and enthusiasm of American youth to acquire useful and profitable educations. In order to fit themselves to be better than the minimum of citizenship they carefully calculate the kind of education they believe they can use most beneficially for themselves and for society. Then they go out with courage and fortitude to get that education, even by doing unusual and exacting labor to make sure of it. It is such pride and pluck that keeps our America in the front of the world's progress.

The farm board is now embarking in the coffee trade. The next step should be into the Argentine hide business.

Henry Ford must pay $10,000 for diverting a brook. It is lucky for his fortune that he didn't divert the Mississippi river.

If President Hoover had signed the Wagner unemployment bill he would have saved himself all his present worries over the jobless.

Great Britain's government fell into a bog, but those Britishers are adept in muddling through.

Cuba is a great sugar producing country, and it is "sugar" those revolution leaders are after.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Mixed Farming.

Diversified farming as The Constitution persistently advocates for Georgia is the answer to many phases of the rural problem. Charles F. Collier, son of the Minneapolis Tribune, is so sure of it that he has got a group of New York bankers and industrialists to abandon the wheat and other simple crop farmers to the consequences of their own ignorance and folly.

In support of his argument has told them of what has happened in his own state, where the land sown to wheat has been reduced by 2,700,000 acres while its output of wheat has been increased to a value of $125,600,000 a year, about $35,000,000 more than the yield of the famous Missouri in 1929.

"The world has been given an income of $375,308,000 in 1929. The only whiners of distress which we have heard come from the Red river grain-growing country."

It cannot be too often reiterated that Mother Nature and human nature work against the get-rich-quick agriculturist and that his salvation lies in abandoning the modern methods of agriculture to the intelligent culture of a variety of products, some of which are bound to reward him for his pains.

When Confidence.

Returns.

The world today is full to overflowing with the greatest surpluses of goods in history. Never before has it been so difficult to dispose of every commodity used in homes, factories and workshop in every quarter of the globe. Wheat, tea, sugar, coffee to mention a few of the household necessities, and cotton, tin, copper and rubber, among the primary commodities of industry are rotting in warehouses or being stored up until world conditions improve. In the elevators there is enough wheat to feed the world for two years. In Brazil coffee, beans are being burned by the ton. Economists everywhere are trying to explain and find remedies for this extraordinary situation. One of them certainly is that a great accumulation of wealth is vital idle in the banks on deposit account which is vitally necessary for the stimulation of commerce and industry.

The economic experts believe that the tide will not turn till a new wave of confidence breaks over the world. That can only happen after a readjustment of international debt, sweeping economies in public expenditure among the great industrial nations and the slowing down of production in the manufacturing industries. In the industry of the cotton with which is now dormant in the bank vaults of America, France and England.

Senator Soaper Says

Who remembers when you used to be hoisted in Fulton superior court to the tide will not turn till a new wave of confidence breaks over the world. By Bill Key,
 Radio Reporter.

GOOD MORNING, EVERYBODY:
 The other night, after I had finished broadcasting, during which several prohibition stories were mentioned, the talk in the studios turned to the talk in the radio rooms, the eighteenth amendment. Being a subject on which anyone can air his or her views, it often happens that a story is born when the Yostland act is mentioned. This night was no exception; and the story-lines came in man-of-the-worlds heard at one time or another—Milo Putack, one of this city's most promising dramatic tenors.

“So Schubert,” Putack relates, “uttered over to the nearest wall, snatched a length of loose wallpaper therefrom and sat down with an empty wine keg for a desk. He hummed to himself for a few minutes, then began writing the music for his immortal ‘Serenade.’ Within little more than an hour he had turned out the composition, with words, and had delighted the doughty Heidelberg cadets.”

This being a day when my type writer is working unusually well, I am going to pass along a bit of verse which “The Sphinx” sent in. It appears that “The Sphinx” has wood the muse has been moved by the divine afflatus for she has turned out a nifty apposuit the 1931 housewife and her radio. Here it is:

The Dreamer.
 She washes fish at the sink.
 But, oh! she is so free!
 The soapuds are ocean foam;
 She sails across the sea.

She hails the peas for dinner.
 As dreamily she stands.
 Lo! they are priceless beads of jade
 A-dropping from her hands.

She sought a gallant Lancelot.
 Astride a charger white,
 But when he rode a Model T
 She chose him for her knight.

She waves godspeed when he rides forth.
 Where dragons may be found.
 Her castle is a bungalow.
 With roses growing 'round.

And when her liege lord rests at night
 His knightly jousting o'er
 She summons from a magic box
 A wandering troubadour.

Serene she rides—her knight attends
 And folies each dragon's plot.
 For though she dwells in Mudville,
 Her home is Camelot.

DR. GILBERT'S CHARGE DENIED BY SUMMERS

No Commercialism in Boom for Roosevelt, Atlantan Claims.

Denial that the Roosevelt Southern Clubs is an organization functioning only for commercial reasons was issued Wednesday by F. B. Summers, executive chairman of the movement which has its headquarters in Atlanta, and which has been denounced by the Georgia legislature and by Dr. R. B. Gilbert, president of the Meriwether County Roosevelt-for-President Club.

Summer's statement followed closely upon a public warning issued Tuesday by Dr. Gilbert, in which the Meriwether county Roosevelt leader charged that the Roosevelt Southern Clubs organization is operating upon a membership-fee basis, and also that it had been stimulated by Governor Franklin Roosevelt and the Georgia general assembly.

In his statement denying commercialism, Summers issued counter-charges, alleging that Dr. Gilbert is being used as a "cat's paw" by political leaders of the Old Guard who have as their object the defeat of the New York governor. He also charged that the purpose of enemies of the Roosevelt Southern Clubs is to prevent a solid Roosevelt delegation from Georgia and end the democratic national convention.

Summer's statement referred to charges of Dr. Gilbert that certain Atlanta hotels had been approached on the subject of rates for a proposed September convention. He admitted that he had done so, but denied that procedure by stating that "it is only fair that the hotels, which are the chief beneficiaries of the convention, should assist in financing the convention."

Summer's concession, Summers claimed, that his organization had received numerous letters from the New York governor expressing appreciation for and endorsing the organization's efforts in his behalf.

"The Roosevelt Southern Clubs," the statement said, "will continue its function in the future as it has in the past, and it will continue to organize

Son Critically Ill, Radio Seeks Mother

The condition of John Winton Alexander, 13-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. William W. Alexander, 941 Clifton rd., N. E., was reported serious at Wesley Memorial hospital Wednesday afternoon, while every effort was being made to notify the boy's mother, who is en route by automobile to Atlanta from Canada.

Yester Alexander, a Boy Scout, inflicted a hatchet wound in his leg Saturday. Infection set in and several operations have been performed in an effort to save the boy's life. Facilities of the press and radio Wednesday were used to apprise Mrs. Alexander of her son's condition but up to this hour it was said these efforts had proved fruitless. It is thought Mrs. Alexander is somewhere in Ohio with her mother, Mrs. E. B. Kinkead.

NO SECRET CONSPIRACY.

DR. GILBERT DECLARIES
GREENVILLE, Ga., Aug. 26.—(UP)—A charge that a secret conspiracy exists among Georgia politicians to kill off the Roosevelt-for-president boom in favor of Owen D. Young was branded "an absolute falsehood" today by Dr. R. B. Gilbert, president of the Meriwether County Roosevelt-for-President Club and sponsor of the movement throughout this state.

Dr. Gilbert Tuesday issued a statement attacking the motives of a somewhat similarly named organization—Roosevelt Southern Clubs—headquartered in Atlanta. F. B. Summers, executive chairman of the Roosevelt Southern Clubs, issued a statement in reply, making the Roosevelt Young charge.

"Absolutely untrue so far as our organization is concerned," Dr. Gilbert told the United Press. "Our movement is a gesture of genuine affection and love for New York's great governor. I am in touch with the democratic leaders of the state, and know that no such alleged conspiracy exists."

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 26.—(UP)—Sale of the Herald-Post Company to R. B. Gallagher of New York, on September 8, was authorized by Nat C. Curton, referee in bankruptcy. Wouldn't it be a comfort to know you are going into the fall and winter motoring season with the best tire equipment on your car that money can buy?

Of course it would! Why don't you do it? You can afford it—with prices as low as these listed here, mileage is selling cheaper now than ever before.

When you buy Goodyears—whether the famous All-Weather Tread or the popular sturdy Pathfinder—you're buying the first-choice tires of the world.

If you have any doubt about this, just remember that for 16 years it has been a fact that "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

Again, a great and unbiased public institution recently completed a nation-wide survey, asking American car owners "What tire is best?"

The vote, uninfluenced in any way, shows a preference for Goodyears nearly 2½ times that for the second tire, and five times the average preference for all other makes.

It takes a great tire—an outstanding tire—to win public approval in this decisive fashion; it takes the kind of tire you would like to own.

You can have that tire, at no extra price, if you'll guide your buying with the simple question: "Why buy a second-choice tire, when first-choice costs no more?"

Newton performed the ceremony. The bride was preceded with stately shaded flowers in tall wicker vases and candelabra holding unshaded tapers. The family pews were marked by clusters of flowers.

Lovely Bride.

The bride, whose beauty is of the blonde type, was lovely in a long gown of white chiffon, the skirt flared below the close-fitting hipline and four ruffles were attached to the sides of the skirt, the front and back flares having tiny cross tucks. The bolero had elbow sleeves and attached to the elbow were long flowing ruffles which matched the flares of the skirt. Her hat was a horsehair model with a white velvet bow as the only trimming. She carried a shower of valley lilies and orchids attached to the white satin prayer book, which her great-grandmother used in her wedding in 1911. Culbertson on Contract

BY ELY CULBERTSON,
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

The Best Bid Ever Made

74
I am frequently asked the question as to the best bid ever made at the Contract table. It is a difficult question to answer but at the moment there stands out in my memory a bid made by a teammate in the match last fall in New York for possession of the Van der Valk trophy, the grand total four-and-a-half supremacy at Duplicate Contract Bridge.

My teammates and I were playing a crucial match in that event against one of our strongest competitors, the Cavendish Club team, which had as members Gratz M. Scott, Edward A. Wetzel, J. S. Johnson and Harold J. Leibenstein. It had reached the last board of the match and our team was behind. Unless an extraordinary and unusual result could be obtained on that board, we must lose the match.

Baron Waldens von Zedtwitz was the number one man upon whom the great decision rested. He picked up this hand as Dealer:

Spades 2
Hearts K J 2
Diamonds K Q 2
Clubs A K Q J 3 2

Game at clubs appeared remote and even though it were made, the match must be as it was won. That is, our opponents, playing the same cards at the other table, would bid and make it. They were ahead. It was, therefore, sound tactics on their part to do the obvious and usual thing. We were behind and in a position where only an unusual result obtained through brilliant acceptance of the chances offered could give us a chance to win.

The correct bid on the hand is, of course, one club, but Baron von Zedtwitz knew that his opponents would make the correct bid as, in their position, it was their right and duty to do so. He would not sell our opponents the same score on the board that they scored. The Baron studied his hand and then bid three notrump. This bid was passed by all the players at the table.

What would be the Opening lead? The Declarer's hand indicated the probability of a spade but he breathed more easily when Senior (the opponent charged with leading) led a small heart. The Dummy was placed on the table and furnished little comfort to the Baron. Except for a scattered Knave or Ten it contained no honors. The first trick was won with the heart Knave in the Declarer's hand. Baron von Zedtwitz then led his King of diamonds, hoping that the original leader held the ace. Sure enough, the Ace was played and another heart led. This was won by the King and 6 club tricks were taken, followed afterwards by the Queen; a total of 9 tricks for a vulnerable game. The score was sufficient to win the match for the team.

In many respects I consider this bid the most brilliant in recent Bridge history. The master player is the one who knows when to bid and when not to bid, when the rules should be set aside. When only unusual bidding can save a desperate situation or only extraordinary play can save a lost contract, the master player rises to the occasion. In fact, it is that ability to face unusual situations and to cope successfully with them that makes the overwhelming odds that makes the master player of any game.

TODAY'S PONTER.
Approach Responses.

These are suit and notrump Take-out bids.

In situations below a game, if the Responding Hand contains a choice between a hiddable suit and a notrump Take-out, the suit should, as a rule, be preferred.

To illustrate:

The Opening Hand bids:

The Responding Hand holds:

Spades 7 10 9
Hearts 7 3
Diamonds Q 3 2
Clubs J 10 5 4

The proper Take-out is one spade and not one notrump. The notrump might definitely suppose a fit spot. Since the partner hold no support in spades, the notrump is available as a subsequent bid and without increasing the contract.

Should partner, on the other hand, hold but a minimum Opening bid and pass, there is no game, regardless of the bid.

Burgess Children's StoriesHAPPY JACK'S GROUND LOVING COUSIN.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

In how to live it seems to be As well we often disagree.—Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy, Flip the Terrier and Cousin Tom, in whose airplane they had made the long journey across the country, were at last in California, the land of sunshine, roses and oranges, not to mention other things. It was Flip who first made the acquaintance of one of the little California people and at first mistook him for an old acquaintance back home in the East.

Flip was out early the morning after their arrival eager to see who and what he could find of interest to an inquisitive small dog with a lot of energy to work off. Almost at once he discovered a small person sitting up watching him. Flip stopped and looked hard at this little stranger. Instantly he thought of Happy Jack the Gray Squirrel. Many, many times had he chased Happy Jack, but always Happy Jack had run up a tree and took safety of the branches made fun of Flip and called him names. Each time he had done this Happy Jack he would get even. Now he didn't stop to think that he was far from home.

"I'll get him this time!" thought Flip. "He hasn't a chance in the world to get away from me this time."

The Squirrel disappeared around a big rock and two seconds later Flip dashed around it expecting to see his would-be victim just a little way ahead. He was running so fast that he was well past the big stone before it dawned on him that he was chasing nothing, just nothing at all. There was no Squirrel in sight. Flip put the brakes on and stopped as quickly as he could. Such a funny look as there was on his face. That fellow had vanished, vanished completely.

Flip willed to look behind him. He decided that the fellow must have dodged around the big stone and probably was hiding on the other side. Back he raced and around the big stone. Squirrel was nowhere to be seen. Flip pawed the stones to look over it. He yelped with disappointment and chagrin. He had been so sure of that Squirrel that even now he couldn't believe that he had escaped. It just didn't seem possible.

At last he quieted down enough to get right down to business to find out what he had been doing. He went slowly around that big stone, sniffing and looking for a hiding-place under the edge of it. And so at length he came to a hole, a hole that led right down under that big stone. One sniff told him that this was where the Squirrel had gone. Flip tried to dig down, but soon gave up as it was a bad job. He backed off, and stood at that hole helplessly.

"This is the first time I ever knew Happy Jack to go into a hole in the ground," he muttered.

But this was Flip's mistake. It wasn't Happy Jack in the Gray Squirrel at all. It was Twitchtail the California Ground Squirrel who had so completely fooled him.

The next story: "The Twitchtails Live High."

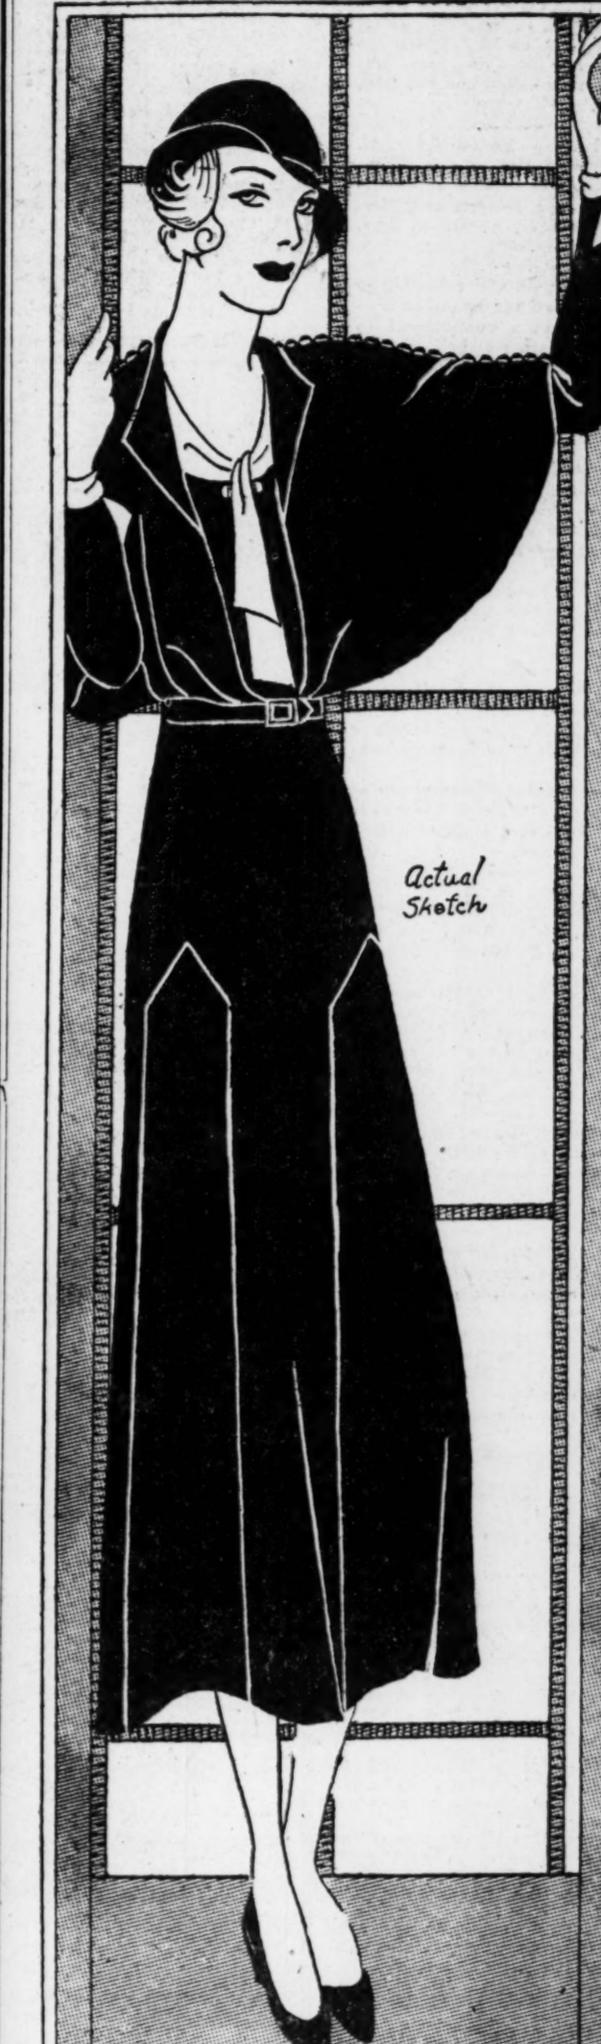

The marriage was solemnized August 11 in Anderson, S. C., with Rev. Robert Chapman Topping officiating.

READY TO QUIT' AFTER '33; BABE HOPES TO PILOT

Bambino Wants 20 Years of Major League Play on Books.

By George Kirksey,

United Press Staff Correspondent.
CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—(UPI)—Babe Ruth, of the United Press today, would be ready to retire from the player's ranks at the end of the 1933 season and seek a major league manager's job.

"My ambition is to play 20 years of major league baseball," said Ruth, "and I have two years to realize it. I know I can't go on forever, but I certainly don't feel like I'm washed up yet as a player."

Thirty-seven and playing his 18th season in the American league, Ruth remains the greatest drawing card in baseball. His presence at Comiskey Park, the big home of the White Sox, attracted more than 100,000 persons to see the Chicago White Sox, a hopeless second division club, play five games in four days against the Yankees.

NO CUT AHEAD.

Ruth's present two-year contract at $80,000 will expire at the end of the 1931 season, and the Bambino isn't figuring on taking a cut when he talks terms with Colonel Jacob Ruppert this winter.

"Do you expect to get $80,000 next year?" Ruth was asked.

BABE NOT EFFECTIVE.

Baseball writers who have followed Ruth's career day in and day out since he came to the Yankees in 1919 notice a deterioration in his fielding, but they can't find any fault with his hitting.

Ruth threatens not only to win back the pennant next year, but also to do his best year in Hack Wilson, but he is the leading contender for the American league batting championship as well. Al Simmons and Ruth were tied for the batting leadership until today when Ruth went hitless. Simmons is batting .385 and Ruth .381.

"My goodness!" said Mr. Thomas, "there is water and here is a ring and there are seats. That means a bathing beauty contest."

And in no time at all the cards were out, adorned by photographs of beautiful young ladies wearing very small bathing suits.

Across the midway there was a dance hall where the orchestra played "I Don't Want to Sing About the Moonlight" and "When I Take My Sugar to Tea."

It was ten cents a dance and three for a quarter, and there were no end of couples out each evening tripping what Mr. Thomas facetiously called the light fantastic.

Mr. Thomas got off to a bad start. The first evening after the announcement Mr. Thomas stationed himself against a post in the dance hall and started waiting for entries.

Mr. Thomas had his scouts out. There was a young man from the ice house called "Sugar," who knew all the girls. And Eddie Hoffman, who was in charge of a house full of jockeys riding at the Bainbridge track nearby, had the jockeys working.

Mr. Thomas is a very personable young man but when the scouts brought the ladies up they shied away from Mr. Thomas as if they were shy, timid maids, which many of them were not at all. Mr. Thomas could not understand this for a time. It suddenly came to him and he fled from the scene.

"While putting on the nose bag tonight at the Henry Hawkins restaurant I grazed through a dozen or so of spring onions, which I love very much," said Mr. Thomas, "and these no doubt repulsed the beauties. I cannot say that I blame them because the Henry Hawkins onions are very powerful scallions," said Mr. Thomas, "but I am sorry to be able to graze among them no longer."

HERE COME THE GIRLS.

It must have been the onions because the next night and in those following, the jockeys and "Sugar" brought up the dime-a-dance customers by the hundreds.

"Sugar" seemed to have a very fine eye, but the jockeys, who travel a lot, were not nearly so particular and some of the girls they brought up eager to enter the beauty contest were not beautiful at all. This caused Mr. Thomas much pain because he did not want them to clutter up his show.

Once I asked one of the jockeys just why he had brought up one of the girls, because it seemed as if he were trying to put the chill on the show, as the boys say.

"She looks swell to me," said the Jock. "Why, that girl works regular, spends money on her friends, and has her own car. Find me a better gal than that."

This seemed to be a very good argument and it no doubt

Tilden May Extend Pro Tour to Europe

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(UPI)—Big Bill Tilden may extend his professional tennis tour to Europe this October, despite the unsuccessful attempt of Jack Curley, promoter, to engage Henri Cochet for a series of matches with the American. Curley has offered Tilden a $10,000 cash bonus.

Meanwhile Tilden and four other professional players will start another eastern tour, starting August 30 at the Jackson Heights Tennis Club, Long Island.

Big Bill will play Albert Burks, of Fredericksburg, Va. The other members of the troupe are Frank Hunter, Emmet Pace, of Chicago, and Bobby Sellers, of San Francisco.

Wilmer Hines Wins Way to Semi-Finals

GREENVILLE, S. C., Aug. 26.—(UPI)—Wilmer Hines, of Columbia, S. C., won three matches and advanced to the semi-finals in defense of his title in the 10th annual Carolinas tournament at the Greenville Country Club today.

Gordon Blackwell, Furman University student from Spartanburg, was the first victim, at 9-7, 6-2. Hines then ran through Christie Prevost, of Greenville, 6-1, 6-1, and wound up the day's work by defeating Joe Black, Anderson Country Club champion, 6-1, 6-0.

The remaining quarter-finalists are Harley Shuford, Hickory, N. C.; Cothran Graves, Greenville; Joe Grier, Charlotte, N. C., and three Spartanburg players, Bill Childs, Pepe Kennedy and Earl Watkins.

GEORGIA CLEARS STADIUM DEBTS IN RECORD TIME

Success of Bulldog Plant Shows Dean Sanford's Efficiency.

By Ralph McGill.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Aug. 26.—(UPI)—The University of Georgia, after success on the field lies one of an even greater success in the management of athletic affairs at the state university.

Under the direction of Dr. S. V. Sanford, the University Athletics Association has established what is probably a precedent in the payment of debts.

Dr. Sanford, who is now the picture of health following a serious illness and operation, returned to his duties at Athens Wednesday.

GREAT REPORT.

His report on the stadium, which he planned and built with the aid of the students, has been submitted even to the alumni, who have grown accustomed to great things from him.

The stadium at Athens was dedicated on October 12, 1929, with a victory over Yale University.

The Bulldogs of Georgia will play to packed stands many times this fall but the team could play to empty benches without putting the stadium over in the red.

In addition to the stadium, which is one of the most beautiful in construction and location in the south, the athletic department of Georgia has given to the University Woodruff Hall.

Woodruff Hall is a magnificent one. In it is held commencement exercises, grand opera and other programs.

Since the dedication of the stadium in 1929 the association has paid all but $7,000 of the $250,000 cost.

FULL YEAR AHEAD.

Not only that but the association is one year ahead on the payment of the remaining notes and no money is due until December, 1932.

Boys' High Grid Squad Looks Good in Daily Work at Lake Burton

PLAYERS SHOW
MUCH PROGRESS
IN SHORT TIME

Doyal Well Pleased With Efforts To Bolster Backfield Group.

By Roy White.

Staff Correspondent.

LAKE BURTON, Ga., Aug. 26.—Prospects for a formidable football team to represent Boys' High in 1931 have begun to take shape after ten days of concentrated efforts on the shores of Lake Burton at Magnolia fishing camp. The youngsters really look like football players now, in fact, they are ready for an hour of scrimmaging almost any minute now.

Twenty-five of the most likely candidates for the team have been taken off pounds of surplus fat and muscles have been added instead. They are beginning to show plenty of form, even in attempting broken field running.

THE ENDS.

A search for a capable pair of halfbacks, a fullback and an end was started among those who reported to the hunt shown in the touch R. L. Doyal is well pleased. As W. A. Miller, John Allen and Bob Warner will likely make the grade at the end positions. They really look good.

Charlie Sheldon, Jimmy Moore, Roane Beard and Joel Grayson are backfield candidates that will be heard from in many games this fall. There is not a heavyweight in the bunch, but it's a gang of fast steppers.

Charlie Sheldon, who last week dived in the waters of Lake Burton and brought to surface a drowned youth from Zebulon, Ga., has been the talk of the camp for his ability as a swimmer and ball carrier.

OTHER PROSPECTS.

Others who have shown ability and who will be given every chance to make the team include Jim Gatchell, Charlie Puleston, Jim Collins, J. L. Brooks, Dick Beard, George Smith, Ernest Johnson and Robert Duvall.

The daily routine is a long skull daily, teaching and working during the morning, an hour of swimming, scrimmaging and fundamentals of passing, passing, blocking, tackling and running. Interference in the afternoon, and a daily swim to close the day.

Football has not occupied the entire time during the two weeks and many new experiences have been added to the camp.

HEARTY APPETITES.

Only a few days ago six of the youngsters had packed and carried a large canoe 18 or 20 miles down three lakes to visit some lady friends. The trip over the two dams and down the long hills was not so bad, but it was tough getting back to the camp, up the mountain sides and the lake? Well, you should have seen that crowd at the supper table.

Eating has been a long suit with the bunch. One of the boys (a star border) drank seven glasses of sweet milk last night, and wanted more, but in walked Coach Doyal.

Spartanburg, S. C., and won six, lost ten for the team. Spartanburg dropped out of the league, Jim Mooney along with it, at the end of the season.

You see I'm from the Volunteer State, I've volunteered to help pitch the Clinton team in the second division," Mr. Mooney added at his own park. These southpaws are so clever. It is said they all came back from the World War without a wound.

PITCHING AWAY.

Well, Jim Mooney started pitching in his first appearance number of ball games, in fact he had lost a like number for the season. But he struck batters out. He had a fast one so fast that even Mr. Mooney himself swore that he could not see it once he turned it loose.

Then right basemen came along in its mosquito-like glory. And out there, the stygian shadows that hovered about the pitcher's mound, Jim smiled sardonically. It was just what he had been waiting for.

Now no one could see his fast ball and maybe the umpires would have to take his catcher's word for it. So Jim reared back and rode that fast one.

UP THE LINE.

In one game in Augusta he set a seasonal record for strikeouts, whiffing 24 men. John McGraw saw it in the papers. He found a United States map and drew a heavy ring about a neighborhood, "Columbia, N. C."

A lot of good ball players had come from the Sally League majors—Ray Gardner, Ben Paschal, Chick Fullis, Ben Chapman, Willy Moore, John Berly, Buck Jordan, et cetera.

John McGraw caught a Pullman for the train to scout Mooney incognito. He frequently leaves his team in charge of some Indians to do that. It so happened that the day McGraw watched Mooney, Jim had a bilious day and most of his stuff was reversed on him. But McGraw liked him. He liked his speed. So he paid seven grand for him and went back to the Sally.

GREAT RECORD.

The season was on, as all seasons do, and when it was over Mooney had fanned exactly 185 batters, 38 more than Jim Richardson, his closest competitor, who had 147.

Most of the Sally league managers had one misgiving about Mooney. They all admitted that his curve ball could give them a deeper wrinkle. But they all said he had more speed than any southpaw to whom the circuit in a long time.

In spring training with the Giants, John McGraw thought the same thing. He didn't want to go to Bridgeport of the Eastern League because Hans Lebert, team coach, finally managed to throw a No. 2. Evidently Mooney picked up the curve with all the aptitude of an Earl Carrington. For there he won 16 and lost 3 for Bridgeport.

GETS OFF WELL.

Not long ago McGraw re-called him and he joined the Pittsburgh Pirates in winning his first National league start, 2-1. In his first 20 innings Mooney allowed one run and 14 hits. Some pitcher, said McGraw.

There was one manager whose team Mooney never could beat in the minors and that was the team of Don Carlos Moore. In the Sally, Moore dropped six games to Mooney's Man Peaches. In the Eastern, he lost three to Moore's Hartford Senators.

"I'm glad that bird doesn't manage the majors," Jim said in a letter to friends.

But Moore always said he was Derringer the Dangerous.

"The best chance the Cardinals have against the Athletics," writes K. G. G., "is the pitching of Paul Derringer. Why don't you tell us more about him?"

In the first place, any number of rival ball players will tell you that Derringer has a more fully perfected change of pace than any youngster who has come to the minors in many years. Others will tell you about his speed. Still others about his wide, sweeping curve.

Derringer himself gives half the credit for his success to his curve ball and the other half to the delivery among Bill McKechnie, Burleigh Grimes and Jimmy Wilson.

"I have just a plain, simple curve ball," says Derringer. "I throw it overhand and it is really a pretty big curve. Of course I use a change of pace and speed, but the main thing depends upon is that curve ball. The first time I made the spring training trip with the Cardinals, I was in Rochester. And then Burleigh Grimes taught me some invaluable things for a young pitcher to know when I came to the club as a regular player. The Cardinals worked with me by the hour down in Bradenton and I will never forget it."

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(P)—The

stock market appeared to have been sold off to standstill today, so bears decided to buy back the shares they had sold short, causing a substantial upturn in the last hour.

There were numerous net gains of 1 to 4 points in the popular trading issues. The price average of 90 leading stocks recorded a net gain of nearly 14.5 points, the largest in more than a week. The day's turnover was only 843,519 shares, slightly less than yesterday's.

Professional traders were participating in the market with the market's rather discouraging reports from industry and trade, and concluded that it must be oversold.

Wheat futures gained 1.1-8 to 1.2-8 cents a bushel. Corn pushed up 1.1-2 to 2.3-8 cents. The cotton market ended the day in a fairly good tone in the Liverpool market, and closed with gains of 70 to 90 cents a bale.

Despite the better tone in stocks and commodities, bonds remained spotty.

The developments in the British government continued to provide considerable encouragement in financial matters. This was reflected by an advance of 5.10-14 cents in sterling eables to $4.861.4-14 cents in sterling some time, and only 3.8-9 of a cent below gold parity.

Shared all but stood still during most of the day. Most of the advance was recorded in the last half hour.

Allied Chemical gained about 4 points, reflecting revival of the European Nitro Cartel, and other chemicals were slightly higher.

Rails generally reflected short covering. Issuing closing about 2 to 4 higher included American Can,

American Telephone, Santa Fe Railroad, Standard Oil, Ohio, DuPont,

Eastman, New Haven, Southern Pathetic, and Westinghouse Electric.

United States Steel closed up about a point, as did General Electric, Radio,

General Motors and several others.

The mid-week business reports failed to provide a clue to the expected stagnation recovery in general business activity. Freight car loadings gained only 8,000 in the preceding week. Steel mill operations continue to fluctuate uncertainly. Electrical power production shows little change.

The oil stocks were generally steady to firm, but there appears to be enough uncertainty still surrounding the petroleum situation to have check-ed the bull movement in these issues.

TRADE TRENDS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BUILDING—Construction contracts awarded in the 37 states east of the Rocky Mountains during the first half of August amounted to $300,-257,900. F. W. Dodge Corporation reports. Of this total, $37,150,900 were placed in public works and utilities. Non-residential building amounted to $341,151,600, and residential building $27,930,400. For the entire month of August last year contracts awarded in the same territory amounted to $27,930,400.

SILKES—Volume sales of silk piec- goods during July were 19.2 per cent higher than during July last year, al- though showing a decrease of 10.9 per cent as compared with the previous month. The Silk Association of Amer- ica reports.

SILVER—Bar silver advanced an eighth of a cent in New York to 27.3-4 cents an ounce, and in Lon- don the metal rose a sixteenth of a cent to 12.15-16 pence.

STEEL—Demand in steel current output was reported by the weekly iron and steel trade reviews. Iron and steel production at 31 per cent ago, and said that demand still fails to foreshadow a seasonal rise in production. Steel, which placed current output at about 32 per cent, said that the decline, while obviously a check of what had the earmarks of a fall rise, has not blighted sentiment appreciably and is "regarded as a variation, and not a trend."

The National City Bank of New York announced that effective September 1 interest rates of 2 per cent per annum would be paid on de- posits in its compound interest demand account. The bank therefore has been paying 2 per cent.

BY ALEXANDER HENDERSON.

NEw YORK, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The bond market fluctuated today with considerable irregularity. A late sporadic rally cancelled many early losses and contributed a few net gains. Trading increased moderately. A few rails touched new low levels, but the average closing price of ten leading rails was 92.2, a net gain of nine-tenths of a point, and the first advance in this figure since August 15.

Sharp losses in Argentine obligations, ranging upward to 5 points, featured the afternoon trading in foreign issues.

United Kingdom of Great Britain & Ireland 5 1/2s of 1937 made further recoveries on an active turnover. Other foreign issues closed irregularly higher.

Yields of the United States government were irregularly lower on moderate activity.

Industrial and public utility loans closed with a steady tone.

Highlights of Wall Street

(Copyright, 1931, for The Constitution by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

NEw YORK, Aug. 26.—Today, for the first time in a week, the general stock market showed substantial improvement and closed with net gains of from 1 to 3 points in the pivotal issues. The reasons given for the change for the better are that preparations are being made for a $500,000,000 British loan to Argentina, that the banking interests had extended support to the stock market in an effort to create a favorable reception of the loan.

Strength of sterling exchange, together with improvement in the price of United Kingdom 5 1/2s, also served to increase the impression that arrangements were being made to supply the British government with additional funds. Inasmuch as the general stock market was in an oversold condition and offerings light on the upside, it required only a small amount of aggressive buying of the leading stocks to bring about the upward movement.

The market, a slightly better inquiry was appearing for bonds was encouraging. Irregularity characterized early dealings, with most stocks showing losses due to announcement that operations in the steel industry the last week had been curtailed about 1 per cent compared with the preceding week. In the meantime, which provided the market with some railroad shares eased off to new low prices for the year. The transportation shares, however, improved in sympathy with the balance of the list in the afternoon rally.

Stocks were reported to be scarce around the low level today, and the absence of offering statistics continued to give the market professional shorts.

The afternoon rally was led by Steel common, American Can, Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing, J. I. Case, General Motors and du Pont. This was natural in view of the fact that those issues have been subjected to the most pressure recently.

NEW HAVEN DIVIDEND.

Directors of the New Haven, New Haven & Hartford proposed action to the stockholders at their meeting. Through an error it was stated in this column yesterday that the New Haven dividend had been reduced from a $6 to a $4 annual basis. The paragraph should have read that gosip current in the Street was that the dividend would be reduced. New Haven stock is advanced and its present quotation is inducing investment buying.

The halter tone in the railroad department of the bond market was attributed to long term investment buying attracted by the unusually large yields obtainable on most issues. The low prices for many of the second-grade railroad bonds are misleading in that they are not necessarily inferior to the more highly rated bonds which closed with net gains of from 1 to 3 points.

An increase in car loadings of 7,956 for the week ending August 15 also contributed somewhat to the better inquiry for transportation stocks.

MERCHANDISING STOCKS.

The improved undertone in the general stock market was quickly reflected in betterment in the merchandising stocks. W. T. Grant had a strong start with a new high price for this year. Woolworth also responded quickly, as did J. C. Penney. Inasmuch as the second six months of the year are usually more profitable for the merchandising companies than the first, the recent improvement in this class of stocks is considered favorable.

Reports of better business are coming from the New England states. This is declared to be particularly true with regard to the textile, shoe, woolen and leather goods industries.

Strength of Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing was partly due to reports in the Street that earnings for the first three weeks of August had shown an increase over those for July.

OILS RESPOND.

Because of the continued favorable developments in the oil industry, the oil stocks were advanced and Standard Oil of California prominent. Investments outside of the oil industry have been steadily picking up this issue and it closed with a net gain of 1 1/2 points. Standard of New Jersey gained almost a point.

Todays' gains in the stock market was a source of much encouragement to those groups which have been trying to conduct constructive operations in different parts of the list. Further improvement would undoubtedly stimulate the operators to become more aggressive.

The tobacco shares were heavy early in the day but they also participated in the late afternoon upturn.

With banking interests supporting the market in an effort to create a favorable reception for a British loan, the stocks on the buying side of the pivotal stocks the last fortnight are expected to renew their efforts to put prices higher.

SportsGIANT SLUGGER SUFFERS SLUMP IN DOUBLE BILL*Bill Terry Gets One Hit and Loses Five Points.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Bill Terry, New York Giant first baseman, who is fighting to finish his second consecutive season as the National league's batting king, lost ground yesterday when he collected only one hit in nine times at bat in a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs. As a result, his average fell 5 points, to .344, putting him 6 points below Virgil Davis, of the Phillies, who is leading the race.

But Terry fell back, leaving Al Simmons in sole possession of the American league top, when he went hitless in four trips against the White Sox.
